From Washington.

The two Houses of Congress assembled at Washington, yesterday. There was a large attendance, both of Senators and Representatives. No organization was effected in the House, only one ballot having been taken for Speaker, and the Republican vote being divided between SHERMAN, of Ohio, and GROW, of Pennsylvania; both good men and true.—As Mr. GROW withdrew his name as a candidate for Speaker, after the first ballot, it is probable that the Republican strength will be concentrated to-day upon Mr. SHERMAN.

The Execution of John Brown.

We copy from the Cincinnati Gazette a thrilling account of the execution of JOHN BROWN, on Friday last. It will be read with intense interest in all parts of the Republic. The old man met his fate with heroic courage and Christian resignation. No language can enhance the impressive eloquence of his dying hour.

Republican Minute Men!

The telegraph reports that at the opening of the House of Representatives, yesterday, all but six out of the 237 members were in attendance. We are glad to say that every Republican member was at his post. Of the six absentees, one was a South-American and the other five, Democrats.

THE BALL OPENED.—It will be seen, by the reported proceedings in the Senate and House of Representatives yesterday, that the Democrats availed themselves of the very first opportunity to commence "agitating" on the Slavery question. If the result does not answer their expectations, we trust that they will not turn round and accuse the Republicans of starting the discussion.

THE FUNERAL OF WASHINGTON IRVING took place Thursday Dec. 1st, at Tarrytown. It was an occasion long to be remembered.—Business was suspended. Stores were closed. From almost every house mourning drapery was hung. The bells of the churches tolled for some hours. From the surrounding country, and from N York and other cities, thousands of people assembled, in and about the church, where the funeral services took place. A procession, more than a mile in length, followed the remains of the deceased to the grave, where, besides many of the most distinguished men of of this City, were nearly all New York Episcopal clergy, including the Provisional Bishop of the Diocese. The New York Common Council and the Trustees of the Astor Library were presented, and the Historical Society was well represented. The services in the church and at the grave, were conducted by Rev. Dr. CREIGHTON, Pastor of the church at Tarrytown, of which Mr. IRVING was a member.

PORT HURON & MILWAUKEE ROAD.—There is a rumor current in our streets to-day, to the effect that money has been procured in England in sufficient to complete the line from Port Huron & Milwaukee to the intersection with the Detroit & Milwaukee Road at Owosso, and that operations upon it are to be commenced immediately.—Port Huron Commercial, Dec. 1st.

We hope this report is true. The construction of the Road from Owosso to Port Huron will complete the air-line from Milwaukee to Portland, and make this route the shortest and quickest one between the Atlantic sea-board and the North-West.

BANQUET IN HONOR OF THE RETURN OF C. J. BRYDGES FROM ENGLAND.—The compliment of the Great Western Railway, and other gentlemen, have determined, upon Mr. C. J. BRYDGES' return to Canada from England, to welcome him with a grand banquet at Hamilton. No man more richly deserves such a compliment from the employees of the G. W. Railway than Mr. BRYDGES'.

THE NEXT PRESIDENCY.—The Whitewater Register, referring to the approaching Presidential contest, says:

"Prominent above all aspirants, and above all men spoken of for that high station, stands New York's Great Senator, Wm. H. Seward. We suppose there is no doubt that he will be the first choice of the Republicans of this State, while it is absolutely certain that, if nominated and elected, he would bring to the discharge of his duties great ability, large and varied experience, statesmanship of the first order, and a firm and wise conservatism that would command the confidence of the whole people. The result of the recent election of New York, leaves no room for doubt that he can carry that State, next year, by a decisive majority, and we firmly believe that he can carry every State in the Union that is at all to be relied upon for a Republican cause."

ABOUT 8 MILES north of Two Rivers, on the beach of the Lake, on Friday the 25th, the body of a man was found by some fishermen. They gave notice to the people of the neighborhood, who assembled at the place where the corpse was found. The person was dressed in a light drab coat, black pants, dark vest, black under-coat, light-blue undershirt, bleached cotton over-slips, a comforter around the neck, and cow hide boots.

In his pockets were found $70 in gold, $3.50 in silver, 2 cents in copper coin, one pair of gold ear-rings, one pair of gloves, a pocket handkerchief, a pocket knife and a small trunk key. Besides these articles a few papers were also found, which have been dried, and will be well taken care of.—These papers show his address to be, Geo. O. Sexton, Garden Creek, Sturgeon River, Big Bay de Noquet, Michigan.

Mr. McMillan writes us that the property found is in his possession. It is in good hands, and will be taken care of until the friends of the unfortunate man are apprized of his fate.—Manitowoc Herald.

GREAT PHILADELHIA WOOL SALES.—A dispatch under date of the 30th, says: "The auction sale of 400 000 lbs wool commenced at noon, M. Thomas & Son auctioneers.—There was a large attendance and lively bidding, and in an hour almost the entire list was disposed of. The price was as follows: extra fleece 50a59c; double extra 62; medium 39 1-2a50 1-2; common 32a42 3-4; blood 51 1-2; super pullet 25 1-2a36; tub wool 38a43 1-2, Cape of Good Hope unwashed 32 1-2.

The sale realized over $175,000, and was most satisfactory. Many of the bids were equal to the market price. There was a large attendance from the East.

NAPOLEON AND JOHN BROWN.—It will not escape the notice of those who are given to observing singular coincidences, that the day fixed for the execution of John Brown is the 2d of December, the anniversary of the famous coup d'etat.—Providence Journal.

EXECUTION OF JOHN BROWN.

His Last Hours—Affecting Interview with his Wife—Scenes and Incidents of the Occasion—His Last Wiit and Testament.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

HARPER'S FERRY, Dec 2.

I left Baltimore this morning bound for this place, where I met your reporter, who visited Charlestown to gather the facts relative to the execution of Ossawatomie Brown, full particulars of which I send you. At Baltimore, crowds endeavored to purchase tickets for Harper's Ferry among whom were a number of Northern editors, but the Company positively refused to sell any tickets except to through passengers or to those whose business and character was known to the officers of the road. As a consequence, many were disappointed in the effort to gratify their curiosity, and the number of passengers upon the road was unusually small. At the Washington Junction, seven miles west of Baltimore, two gentlemen got into the train, and were immediately approached by an officer of the Company, who told them that he must know who they were and what was their destination. To this query one of them demurred, when the following colloquy ensued:

Officer—It is absolutely necessary that you should answer me.

Passenger—Why, am I in Austria?

Officer—There is no time for argument—the State that grants us a charter has a right to proclaim martial law, and we must comply with her requirements.

Second Passenger—I am a subject of her Brittanic Majesty—I have a through ticket.

First Passenger—I have a ticket to Wheeling, (showing his ticket,) and am going to Minnesota. My name and business I choose to keep to myself.

Officer—All right, gentlemen, you can pass along.

The passengers secured a good deal surprised and irritated, but were mollified when an explanation was given by an official connected with the Road. Some military gentlemen belonging to the staff of Gen. Wm. B. Taliaferro, in command at Charlestown, also got into the cars at the Relay House. They lived in a remote part of Virginia, and had been unable to join their Commander earlier. At the various stations along the route between Baltimore and the Ferry, groups of people were gathered, evidently awaiting the arrival of the down train, carrying news of Brown's execution. Our train reached the Ferry at a quarter before 12 o'clock, and we found the platform carefully guarded by soldiers, who closely scanned every passenger and kept the space in front clear. Everywhere about town soldiers were stationed, and the Government buildings had been turned into barracks, in which were quartered the U. S. troops from Old Point Comfort.

But few strangers were in the village, the visitors consisting chiefly of people of the adjacent country, who had come to hear of Brown's execution. A military company, which has just been organized here, was being marched through the streets with a drum and fife, and both sights and sounds conspired to remind one of the pomp and circumstance of glorious war.

I learned that Mrs. Brown, with a lady and two gentlemen friends, from Philadelphia, were staying at the Wager, having arrived on Wednesday night. I immediately sought one of the gentlemen named McKim, who was loud in his complaints of the manner in which they had been treated by the military authorities, and gave us the following narrative: He says that last week Brown wrote to his wife, saying if she thought she could bear the meeting with calmness, he would be glad to take leave of her; whereupon she determined to see him once more before he died. Mrs. McKim, knowing the value of a woman's sympathy and companionship, under such trying circumstances, volunteered to accompany her, as also did Mr. McKim and another gentleman. The latter supplied themselves with the best testimonials as to respectability and character, and also with letters of introduction to Col. Lewis A Washington and others, and reached Harper's Ferry on Wednesday night.

On the next morning, they communicated with the officer in command of the Virginia military here, that Mrs. Brown had arrived, and that they wished to accompany her to Charlestown. The officer courteously responded, that he presumed there would be no difficulty in granting their request, and immediately telegraphed to Gen. Taliaferro, at Charlestown, who, in turn, telegraphed to Gov. Wise for instructions. A great number of messages were then exchanged and finally it was ordered that Mrs. Brown should be sent alone to see her husband, under an escort of military, and the others of the party should be detained and watched. Mrs. Brown was greatly distressed at being compelled to go without her friends, but finally consented, and was taken to Charlestown and allowed an interview of two hours with her husband, but was not permitted to remain during the night. An anecdote is related of Brown in this connection, which is eminently characteristic: When Gen. Taliaferro had arranged for the visit of Mrs. Brown, he called on the prisoner and informed him that his wife would come to see him, and he wished to know how long an interview he desired.

Brown said—"Three or four hours," to which the General responded that it was too long; an hour he thought was enough.—Brown replied: "Very well, sir, obey your orders, and do your duty. I have no favors to ask of the State of Virginia."

This indomitable spirit was manifested to the very last. In his final interview with Cook, he accused him sternly of falsehood in representing that he, Cook, had been misled by him. He shook hands with all the prisoners, and handed each of them twenty-five cents, remarking that the money was of no further use to him.

When parting from his wife, he asked the jailor, as though it was the most casual and indifferent question, "At what hour am I to be executed?" And on being told 11 o'clock, he turned to his wife and said, "Very well; if I think of anything else to say, I will write it down and leave it for you."

On the scaffold, he refused to make the usual signal to the Sheriff to let the drop fall, and resolutely declined the services of any clergyman. No one attended him but the Sheriff and his assistants. He has left two wills—one disposing of some small landed property, and the other relating to the disposition of his pikes and Sharpe's rifles.

Of the final interview between himself and wife, it is too soon to speak. I learn that she is sleepless and nervous, but sternly represses external manifestations of her feelings.

WISE'S LETTERS TO MRS. BROWN.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 26, 1859.

TO MRS. MARY A. BROWN, now in Philadelphia:

MADAME:—Yours of the 21st inst., addressed to me from Philadelphia, came to my hand this morning. Believe, me madame, that I sadly thank you for your trust in my feelings as a man. Your situation touches those feelings deeply. Sympathizing as I do, with your affliction, you shall have the exertion of my authority and personal influence to assist you in gathering up the bones of your son and husband in Virginia for decent and tender interment among their kindred. I am happy, madame, that you have the wisdom and virtue to appreciate my position of duty. Would to God that public considerations could avert his doom, for the Omniscient knows that I take not the slightest pleasure in the execution of any whom the laws condemn. May He have mercy on the erring and afflicted.

Enclosed is an order to Maj. GEN. Wm. B. Taliaferro, in command at Charlestown, Va., to deliver to you the mortal remains of your husband, when all shall be over, to be delivered to your agent at Harper's Ferry, and if you attend the reception in person, to guard him sacredly in your solemn mission, with tenderness and truth.

I am, very respectfully,
Your humble servant,
HENRY A. WISE.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 26, '59.

INSTRUCTIONS TO GEN. TALLIAFERRO.

Maj. Gen. W. B. Talliaferro, in command at Charlestown:—

SIR: When John Brown is executed, on Friday, the 2d proximo, you will place his mortal remains under strict guard, and protect them from mutilation. Place them in a plain, decent coffin, and have them taken to Harper's Ferry, there to await the orders and appeal of Mrs. Mary A. Brown, who has a duplicate of this order. You will also allow the bodies of her sons who fell at Harper's Ferry, to be disinterred, and taken by her, or her agent, or order.

Respectfully,
HENRY A. WISE.

LAST INTERVIEW OF MR. AND MRS. BROWN.

The following is a succinct and truthful account of the concluding interview between Mr. and Mrs. Brown. An escort of cavalry accompanied Mrs. Brown from Harper's Ferry, under command of Capt. Moore, of the Richmond Montgomery Guards. The carriage which conveyed her was stopped at the outskirts of the town. All the military were ordered out, and the street was thronged with aids and plumed officials, who appeared anxious to convey to the distressed woman an idea of their consequence. The carriage was driven slowly through town while the women and children gaped from the windows, and mushroom soldiery strutted on the streets.

On arriving at the jail, which was closely guarded, the carriage stopped, and Capt. Moore, who rode with Mrs. Brown, jumped from the vehicle, and tendering her his arm, escorted her into the jail.

Capt Brown was informed of his wife's arrival, and requested that she might be allowed to enter his room as soon as possible. In a few minutes the jailor conducted her into his presence. The meeting was affecting, and at first neither party spoke.

Brown embraced her, pressed her to his bosom and exclaimed, "My wife!" No tears were shed, but a deep drawn sigh told too well of the intensity of the feeling which each was undergoing.

After a few moments thus spent, the Captain drew a chair, and Mrs. Brown sat down. He then spoke to her of his condition, told her he was contented, and if it was not for parting with her and others whom he loved, he would have no regret in dying. Mrs. Brown entered fully into the feelings of her husband, and both were resigned to the fate which awaited him.

Capt. Brown referred to the disposition of his property and the welfare of his children; and after spending an hour in conversation, supper was brought in by the kind jailor, and the husband and wife sat down together to partake of their last meal. The Captain raised his hands, and asked God to bless the meal, and then with a cheerfulness which has no parallel, they commenced their repast. From the time Mrs. B. arrived, old Captain B.'s spirits rose, and he exhibited light-heartedness, which surprised those who were around him. Mrs. Brown remained with her husband until half past six o'clock, when she was informed that the interview must end. The Captain desired that his wife might remain with him during the night, but the orders from headquarters were to the contrary, and accordingly they separated. While the parting scene was one which showed much intensity of feeling, there was no exhibition of passion, and after an embrace, and kiss, and a kind admonition from Brown, they parted forever.

Mrs. Brown was conducted to her carriage and under a similar escort with Capt. Moore, who was kind and gentlemanly in his deportment, the carriage started for the Ferry.

The substance of Brown's interview with his wife was relative to a settlement of his monetary affairs and the disposition of his body. Previous to her arrival he had desired that his body should be burned, and the ashes thereof urned, and in that condition removed. He also expressed a desire that the bodies of his two sons who were killed at Harper's Ferry, should be disinterred, and after undergoing a similar process, be placed in the same urn with his own, and taken North.

This would have been impossible, as the physicians of Winchester had secured their bodies and dissected them.

Gov. Wise had given an order to the effect that if any person called for the body of Brown, who was entitled to it, that the Sheriff should hand the same over, and Mrs. B. was assured by the authorities that the body would be sent to her address at Harper's Ferry. Brown spent some two or three hours last night writing and reading, and then retired to rest. He slept soundly, and rose about six o'clock, cheerful and apparently unconcerned about the fate which awaited him. About half-past seven o'clock, after partaking of his breakfast, jailor Capt. Avis, who had been very kind to Brown, and who had endeared himself thereby, informed him that he could visit Cook, Coppie, and the other prisoners, if he desired. Accordingly, he was conducted to the room of Cook first.

INTERVIEW BETWEEN BROWN AND HIS FELLOW-PRISONERS.

On entering, a kindly recognition took place, when Capt. Brown said, addressing Cook: "I am sorry you have not confined yourself to truth in your statement called your confession. I never sent you to Harper's Ferry as a spy, and your statement to that effect is false."

Cook—"You certainly did."

Capt. Brown (in a commanding tone)—"I did not, sir; you have, by your course, held yourself up as an object of contempt, and deservedly so."

At this remark Cook's head fell and he made no reply. Brown was next conducted to Stevens' room. The meeting between them was cordial. Brown remarked that he was about to die; Stevens said: "I feel assured that you will go to a better world than this." Capt. Brown said: "Conduct yourself like a man; I know you will do so without my advising." They again shook hands and parted. He then repaired to the room of Coppie, where a conversation almost similar took place. Thence he went to the rooms of the negroes, whom he said he expected to die like men, and as became their condition and position. The negroes gave him the assurance that they would die fearlessly, as they were fully assured that their action was just and proper. Brown then returned to his room, and continued writing for some time.

THE EXECUTION.

As the hour approached for his execution, the Medical Faculty in attendance, the Sheriff of the county and officers of the jail, visited his room and conversed with him. Brown was cheerful and talked as though the hour which was appointed for his death was indifferent, and far in the future. Nothing of any material incident occurred in these interviews.

At nine o'clock, agreeably to the general order, the military companies commenced assuming their positions. One company was stationed in front of the jail; another directly opposite of the Market House, and yet another in front of the Court House, which was only a few yards to the north of the prison. Two pieces of brass cannon were placed near the jail wall, on the road leading to the scaffold.

The place of execution was not more than half a mile from the jail. It was erected on an eminence, in the center of a twenty acre field. The grounds were laid off, and small white flags were stuck in the ground, beyond which no citizen was allowed to pass.

At the gate a military company were stationed, who refused to admit any person unless accompanied by a military escort. The representatives of the press, after much trouble, were escorted into the field, and assigned a position within one hundred yards of the scaffold.

At this time the military had assumed their positions on the field, and in the woods to the north of the field of execution. The cavalry were seen scouting in every direction, while mounted men were stationed all along the fences of the field of execution, and could be seen riding to the south and east, apparently anxiously looking for the anticipated rescue.

The Richmond Company F. were assigned a position to the south of the scaffold, and within fifty yards of it, while the Cadets from the Virginia Military Institute were stationed in front, and within about the same distance. A Company of Cavalry were riding around the field, and two or three companies of infantry were stationed within twenty yards of the fences, as pickets.

Field officers, staff officers, and officers of the day, and officers not of the day, together with Aids to the Governor, were dashing along on spirited horses, riding to and fro, apparently giving exhibitions of excellent horsemanship, and rivalling each other in this accomplishment.

Thus matters stood at half past 10 o'clock, when Gen. Taliaferro, with his staff, consisting of thirty-seven men in various uniforms, and all mounted on spirited chargers, entered the field, and proceeded, with all military decorum, to a position in front of the gallows, and in the rear of the Cadets from the Military Institute.

The departure of the commanding officer from the town, was the signal for the bringing out of the prisoner. A furniture wagon was driven in front of the jail, and the military formed around it. Brown was then escorted from his room.

He was dressed in a black suit much worn, the same he had on when he made his attack on the Ferry. He wore a slouch hat, shoes, and red stockings. His arms had been pinioned, and he marched out with a firm step and upright head. He was assisted into the wagon, and took a seat on his coffin.

The train then proceeded for the scene of execution. The military escort was large and imposing. There was no music, and nothing was to be heard save the slow-measured tread of the military, and the rumbling of the wheels of the wagon which was conveying Brown to his death.

Following the military were about two hundred citizens. The gate was entered, and the command brought to a halt. In a few minutes it again started, and proceeded to the gallows. The wagon was stopped a few yards from the steps which led to the platform, and Brown was assisted out, and immediately started for the scaffold. On one side was the Sheriff, on the other one of his deputies.

Brown ascended the steps with a cheerful look, a firm unshaken step, and an unbleached eye. Not an exhibition of fear was given. There was no evidence of a consciousness of the terrible tragic scene which was about to take place, and in which he was to be the actor. As soon as he reached the platform, the military which accompanied him filed to the right and left, and took the positions which had been previously assigned them. Brown looked at the crowd, then glanced at the scaffold. The Deputy Sheriff extended his hand and took that of Brown, and, shaking it, bade him farewell.

No ministers were present owing to the fact that Brown had refused their offices.—The Sheriff approached him, shook his hand, and bade him good-bye. Brown stepped forward, when the Deputy Sheriff tied his legs, while the Sheriff drew the white cap over his head, and placed the fatal rope about his neck. As soon as this was done, Brown remarked to the Sheriff, "you will have to guide me from this out." The Sheriff asked, "Captain Brown, have you anything to say." To which he replied, "Nothing."

Sheriff—"Will you take a handkerchief, and use it as a signal, letting it fall when you are ready?"

Captain Brown—"No sir, I am always ready. Do not keep me unnecessarily long."

The Sheriff then stepped aside while the doomed man engaged in prayer. In a few minutes he stepped softly from the scaffold, and, on leaving it, the Deputy Sheriff sprung the trap, and John Brown was suspended between the heavens and the earth.

Not a sound was heard except the creaking of the timbers of the scaffold and the whipping sound of the wind, as it played with the naked branches of the trees.

After he had hung for twenty minutes, Drs. Girard, D. E. Mason, John A. Smith, John Starry and H. P. Cooke, ascended the platform, and, after feeling his pulse, pronounced him dead. Ten physicians, attached to the different military corps, then visited him, each one of them felt his pulse, and pronounced him dead. Thus ended this tragic scene, which commenced in violence and murder, and closed in shame and death.

INCIDENTS.

On the road to the scaffold, Brown remarked to the undertaker, who was in the wagon with him, on observing military in the field: "They have excluded all citizens." "Yes," was the reply. Capt. Brown said: "Gentlemen, you are cash and collected—much more so than I; and yet your condition is much more critical. I am cool," said he "I have suffered much more from modesty in my lifetime than I have from fear. For thirty years I have been educated to look on fear as a myth, and now I do not know what it is." After riding some distance further, and being beyond the limits of the town, he said, addressing the same gentleman: "What a beautiful country you have; I had no idea of its beauties and the excellence of its soil. This is the first time I have had the pleasure of seeing it." No other conversation took place, and he quietly proceeded to his death.

Just previous to starting for the execution, Brown wrote the following and handed it to Mr. Hiram O'Bannon:

"I am now convinced that the great iniquity which hangs over this country cannot be purged without immense bloodshed. When I first came to this State I thought differently, but am now convinced that I was mistaken."

He requested Mr. O'Bannon not to give publicity to the above.

After the body of Brown had hung for thirty-eight minutes, it was cut down and placed in the coffin. The rope with which he was hung was taken in charge by an officer, and afterwards cut up into pieces and distributed to those who were anxious to have it. Parties cut the timbers of the gallows, and carried away the pieces, while others secured a lock of his hair. When the body was placed in the coffin it was conveyed to town and placed in the jail. Many persons desired to visit the jail for the purpose of seeing it, but their curiosity was not gratified. A special train of cars was ordered from the Ferry, and at half-past six o'clock, under a strong military escort, the coffin was removed from jail and taken to the cars, where it was placed in a special car, and an escort getting in, the train proceeded to the Ferry, where it arrived at half-past seven o'clock.

Not more than two hundred citizens witnessed the execution. Many more would have been present, but the officer of the day, in placing sentinels on the avenues leading to the town, had selected men from the military corps from a distance, and they not being able to recognize citizens of the county, they were excluded from town lest they might be rescuers. Much indignation was felt and expressed on account of this arrangement, and clamor became so great that the commanding officer was compelled to remove those who were on sentinel duty, and place members of the county military companies on guard. Immediately after the execution a heavy smoke was observed to the south east of the town, and a report was in circulation that it was occasioned by the burning of a barn of the late Gen. Turner, who was killed at Harper's Ferry. A squad of cavalry were immediately dispatched to examine into the cause, who returned and stated that it was owing to the burning of brush on a clearing. On Thursday, however, four or five horses belonging to Mr. Turner, died of poison, while several others are suffering from the effects of the same.

Charlestown is very quiet; the people are not excited, and have never been. The only excitement which has existed, has been occasioned by the military. The troops will remain. Some few will be granted furloughs, but they will be present on the 16th inst.

JOHN BROWN'S WILL.

CHARLESTON, Jefferson Co., Va., Dec. 18, 1859.—I give to my son John Brown, Jr., my surveyor's compass, and other surveyor's articles, if found; also my old granite monument, now at North Elba, N. Y., to reserve upon its two sides a further inscription, as I will hereafter direct; said stone monument, however, to remain at North Elba so long as any of my children or my wife may remain there as residents. I give to my son Jason Brown, my silver watch, with my name engraved on the inner base. I give to my son Owen Brown, my double spy, or opera glass, and my rifle gun, if found, presented to me at Worcester, Mass. It is globe-sighted and new. I give also to the same son, fifty dollars in cash, to be paid him from the proceeds of his father's estate, in consideration of his terrible sufferings in Kansas, and his cripple condition from his childhood. I give to my son Salmon Brown fifty dollars in cash, to be paid him from my father's estate, as an offset to the first of the two cases above named. I give to my daughter Ruth Thompson, my large old bible containing family records. I give to each of my sons and to each of my other daughters, my son-in-law Henry Thompson, and to each of my daughters-in-law, as good a copy of the Bible as can be purchased at some book store in New York or Boston, at a cost of five dollars each in cash, to be paid out of the proceeds of my father's estate.

I give to each of my grand-children that may be living when my father's estate is settled, as good a copy of the Bible as can be purchased as above, at a cost of three dollars each. All the Bibles to be purchased at one and the same time, for cash, and on the best terms. I desire to have fifty dollars each paid out of the final proceeds of my father's estate, to the following named persons, to wit: To Allen Hammond, Esq., of Rockville, Tolland county, Conn., or to George Kellogg, Esq., former agent of the New England Company at that place, for the use and benefit of that Company; also fifty dollars to Silas Havens, formerly of Irvinsburg, Summit County, Ohio, if he can be found. Also fifty dollars to a man formerly of Stark county, Ohio, who sued my father, in his lifetime, through Judge Humphreys, and Mr. Upson, of Akron, to be paid by J. R. Brown to the man in person, if he can be found. His name I cannot remember. My father made a compromise with the man, by turning out of the house and lot at Monroeville. I desire that any remaining balance that may become due from my father's estate, may be paid in equal amounts to my wife and each of my children, and to the widows of Watson and Oliver Brown, by my brothers.

Brown made also a second will, in which he authorizes the Sheriff of Jefferson county to sell his pikes and guns, and give the proceeds to his wife, if they can be found. This was made this morning.

Gov. Wise wrote a similar letter to the Sheriff of Jefferson county to the one he wrote to Gen. Taliaferro; as to the disposition of Brown's body. The gentleman who accompanied Mrs. have kindly furnished me with the following statement:

They accompanied Mrs. Brown to assist in disinterring and identifying the remains of her sons, and to aid in bringing out the body of John Brown. In the former task they have been kindly aided by Colonel Barbour and other citizens of Harper's Ferry. They found two graves, one containing three, and the other originally ten bodies. It was ascertained that the corpse of Watson Brown had been carried off by the surgeons for dissection. They found two bodies and supposed that one of them was that Oliver Brown, but it was far gone in decomposition, and Mrs. Brown thought herself unequal to the task of recognition, so the bodies will be re-interred here.

The body of John Brown arrived to-night at seven and a half o'clock, under an escort of the military, and was delivered by the undertaker to the gentlemen who accompany Mrs Brown. It will leave at three o'clock in the morning. The party will stop in Philadelphia, where the remains will be placed in a metallic coffin, and taken without ostentation, to his old residence, North Elba, Essex Co., New York. Brown himself has furnished a touching inscription for the tomb stone, which has not been allowed to transpire. Mrs. Brown, to-night, is quite unwell, but notwitstanding her indisposition, and the peculiar circumstances of her situation, she is annoyed by requests made to see her by impertinent New York reporters. She has received a very affecting letter from Coppie, who expresses his deep regard, devotion and esteem for her husband, and his sympathy for herself. A letter was also received by Brown, from his son John Brown, Jr., which is well written and shows him to be "a chip of the old block."

I have now given you all the facts of moment connected with this exciting event, and as the hour is very late, will here close my report.

LATEST.

HARPER'S FERRY, Dec. 3—1 A. M.

I just learned that Brown made a dying declaration, which is now in the possession of the authorities at Charlestown, not having been handed to his widow with other papers. The letter of Coppie to Mrs. Brown, and those of Captain Brown, will, most probably, be published for the benefit of Mrs. Brown and her children.

THE CITY.

THE SEASON OF FIRES.—After a long and fortunate exemption from fires, our city was visited with no less than four, between 1 o'clock, A. M., Saturday, and 5 A. M. Sunday, involving considerable destruction of property. It is probable that all of these fires were the result of accident; and this should serve as a caution to all householders, store-keepers, occupants of offices, &c., to see to their furnaces, stove-pipes and ash houses, and to look also into their insurance policies—for when a fire does occur it is comfortable to be insured. Our Fire Wardens, too, should make a thorough inspection of their several districts, with a view to see that stoves and stove-pipes are properly placed and protected, and that hot ashes are not kept in wooden barrels, or boxes, in close proximity to wooden sheds, or fences. "An ounce of preventative is better than a pound of cure."

THE LAKE FERRY still gives evidence of substantial vitality, notwithstanding our Chicago cotemporaries imagined they had the satisfaction of chronicling its demise last week. Yesterday morning the propeller Cuyahoga brought over some two hundred and fifty tons of merchandize and thirty passengers from Grand Haven, and returned last evening with a full cargo of pork, flour and other articles.

We understand that an extra lot of mechanics has been put to work on the Detroit, in order to get her ready for business with all possible haste, and it is expected that she will be ready to resume her place in the line in about two weeks. The alterations that she is undergoing will nearly double her freight room, and at the same time increase her accommodations for passsengers.

LATER FROM THE MILWAUKEE.—The report that the steamer Milwaukee had been got off was incorrect. We presume it grew out of the intelligence that the Milwaukee was in a favorable position, and that there was a good prospect of getting her off safely. When the Cuyahoga left Grand Haven, yesterday, the Milwaukee was securely fastened in an easy position, and all that was deemed necessary to get her afloat was a change in the wind.—The large tug McQuesn, from Chicago, had arrived there, and we think it not unlikely that the Milwaukee is off by this time. Capt. WELSH confirms Mr. BRADFORD'S statement that she had sustained no damage.

WHERE TO SEND FOR BOOKS.—We have received a package of new books from CARLTON & RUDD, 131 Grand Street, New York, accompanied with a catalogue of their publications. Any of our readers who may wish to purchase any of the many works issued by this house need only enclose the price in a letter directed to the well known firm to ensure the arrival of the book by return of mail.

RECEIPTS OF THE ORPHANS' FAIR.—The Treasurer of the "Milwaukee Orphan Asylum" acknowledges with pleasure, the receipt of $1,330 29 from the Annual Festival. This sum includes $117 from "The Young Ladies' Dorcas Society," and $24 from the "Little Girls' Table."

The Treasurer also acknowledges $10,60, a Thanksgiving offering from the Summerfield Methodist Church.

NOT SO.—The News gives it out that a large majority of the Board of Trade of this city were indignant at the Chamber of Commerce being opened for a meeting of sympathy with JOHN BROWN, and passed resolutions censuring those who permitted the use of the room for that purpose. We have only to say that this is the last falsehood but three that the News has published.

THE TANNERY that was burned in the 1st Ward last Saturday night, was owned by Messrs. FREDERICK & ENGELBRECHT. It was so far out of town that before the engines could reach the spot it was entirely consumed, with a stable adjoining. About $600 in money and $500 worth of leather were burned, besides two horses and a cow in the stable. No insurance on anything.

OPERA.—Two opera troupes are at present fulfilling engagements in Chicago. One—the famous Parodi troupe—gave Traviata last evening. The other—the Escott and Miranda Company—are performing English Operas at McVickar's. The Parodi troupe are highly spoken of by the Chicago Press. They will appear in Milwaukee on the 12th.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—A meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, at 7 o'clock, in the basement of the Welsh Congregational Church, Jefferson street, south of Michigan, for the purpose of organizing a Free Temperance Society. The attention of all interested in the Temperance cause is requested.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF JOHN BROWN.—We learn that a committee has secured Market Hall for the purpose of giving, on Thursday evening, an entertainment, probably of a dramatic character, for the benefit of the family of JOHN BROWN. Further particulars will be given in due season.

DROWNED.—Yesterday afternoon a boy ten years of age, a native of Bohemia, was drowned (in the 2d Ward, we think,) by falling headlong into a barrel about one quarter full of water.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—VAN COTT is going to New York to lay in a stock of Jewelry and Fancy articles, appropriate for Holiday presents. Parties sending orders by him may make sure of getting what they want.

THE conclusion of Nym Crinkle's letter, from Waukesha, is unavoidably, omitted till to-morrow.

COUNTY ORDERS.—J. S. FILLMORE wants $5,000 worth of County Orders, and will pay the highest market price.

MEAT EATERS are requested to read the card of Mr. CRUMMEY, in another column.

Board of Aldermen.

Alderman PRENTISS in the chair. The reading of the minutes of last meeting, was, on motion, dispensed with. A petition from PATRICK QUINLY, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

A report from the Comptroller, in relation to the special taxes was read by the Clerk.

An ordinance, making it a finable offence to permit any "dog, bitch or whelp" to run at large, and rendering it lawful for the police to kill any dog not properly muzzled was adopted.

An ordinance repealing an ordinance entitled "An ordinance for the construction of a Horse Railroad," came up and passed. This ordinance relates to the Horse Railroad in the Second Ward. Alderman PHELPS asked to be excused from voting on the question.—The Board refused to excuse him.

A resolution, approving the report of the Street Commisioners of the Seventh Ward, was adopted.

The resolution in relation to the Watertown Railroad track concurred in.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the Mineral street sewer, reported in favor of charging the same to the Fifth Ward. Matter referred to the local committee of the Fifth Ward.

A number of bills were presented and referred.

The committee of the Third Ward reported averse to the passage of JAS. WILLIAM'S bill. The report was concurred in.

A resolution authorizing the city to pay the Milwaukee News $600 on account for city printing, was adopted.

BAZAAR OF ALL NATIONS.—This evening the festival undertaken by the members of the Unitarian Society for the benefit OF THE POOR OF OUR CITY, commences.

The entertainment promised is a novel one, and aside from the attractiveness, worthy the attention of our citizens. The hall has been most tastefully decorated by the ladies and presents a strikingly beautiful appearance to the beholder. Articles, of beauty and virtu have been received from the east with especial reference to their exhibition, among which are several aquaria completely stocked with animal and vegetable life, forming the most interesting parlor ornaments we ever saw.

The numerous ladies and gentlemen who have this matter in hand will attend to the sale of the various articles in the costume of those Nations from whom the ornaments were received.

The entire proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted towards relieving the necessities of the poor, wherever they may be found and without regard to religious denomination.

The Bazaar will open on Tuesday evening the 6th of December, and will continue every evening during the week.

Tickets twenty-five cents. Season Tickets, one dollar; may be obtained at the Hotels, Book and Music Stores and at the door.

AT MRS. FOX'S GIFT ENTERPRISE, the following numbers drew prizes:

W Moore, 179; "Battle of Bunker Hill."

FIRE.—Two small frame houses on Huron street, between Milwaukee and Jeffers on, were destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. One belonging to JOHN CASSIN, and the other to CONRAD WARTH. CASSIN'S loss is nearly $600, on which he had an insurance $350. WARTH lost $400—no insurance.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The regular Monthly Meeting of this Association will be held at their room this Tuesday evening at 7 1 2 o'clock, when an essay on a subject of great practical importance may be expected. At this meeting members will be furnished with printed copies of the Constitution first Annual Report of the Address delivered at the Anniversary meeting of the Association.

THE GREAT BOOK SALE will be continued every night this week at the City Auction Room. Opportunity offers to purchase all kinds of Gift

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 6, 1859.

The Official Canvass.

We give elsewhere the official statement of the votes cast in this State at the recent election. The result on Governor, counting all the returns was as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Randall, (Republican) | 63,500 |
| Hobart, (Democrat) | 59,016 |
| Total vote | 122,016 |
| Republican majority | 3,994 |

Two years ago the vote stood as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Randall, (R.) | 44,636 |
| Cross, (D.) | 44,229 |
| Total vote | 88,865 |
| Republican majority | 407 |

It will be seen that the aggregate vote has increased nearly fifty per cent since 1857, and hence the handsome gain in the Republican majority.

The Republican candidates ran in the following order: HASTINGS, HOWE, RANDALL, HARVEY, VAN STEENWYK, NOBLE, HEG, PICKARD. The Democratic candidates ran thus: PALMER, DRAPER, SQUIRES, ALDEN, FLECK, HOBART, CRAWFORD and SILVERMAN, with wide margin between the first and last.

The Proscription of Mr. Silverman.

LION SILVERMAN, the defeated Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, writes a letter to the Madison Patriot, confirming the statement heretofore made by that paper, that he was opposed by his own party friends on account of his religious faith. He says the See Bote, Banner & Volksfreund and Phœnix, all German Democratic papers, came out against him because he was a Jew, and not only defeated him, but by their clamorous and senseless opposition, also defeated the rest of the ticket.

What have the News and its anonymous correspondent to say to Mr. SILVERMAN'S testimony, or how will they justify this Know Nothing proscription in their own party ranks?

Mr. SILVERMAN takes his defeat good naturedly. He says he started up Salt River two weeks before election, but had he known that he was to be accompanied by the balance of the members of the ticket, he certainly should have waited for their company. Mr. S. concludes as follows:

"But, friend Carpenter, I am perfectly reconciled; I am going to open a large hotel in Ozaukee and make a business of accommodating the public, and if all those that voted for me will give me a call and spend a dollar, and those that voted against me fifty cents, (as I have not the same claim on them) I will then do better than my friend Hastings will at three per cent."

Republican Convention in Missouri.

A call, signed by BARTON ABLE, Chairman of the General Free Democratic Committee, and B. GRATZ BROWN, Chairman of the Republican Committee, appears in the St. Louis Democrat, for a State Convention of the Republicans of Missouri, to be held at Jefferson City on the 28th instant, to select Delegates to the Republican National Convention, which is to nominate candidates for President and Vice President. The Free Democrats and Republicans are urged to send delegates from every County in the State. The appearance of this call has greatly excited the Pro-Slavery Democracy of Missouri, and the Jefferson City correspondent of the St. Louis Herald says "that the call in the Missouri Democrat of last Monday, for a State Black Republican Convention at Jefferson City, on the 28th of December next, has had the effect to create a wide-spread and determined feeling on the part of the members, not to permit or allow the people of Missouri to be so grossly insulted."

What means the Sham Democracy intend to employ to prevent the Republicans of the State from holding the proposed Convention, does not yet appear. The next step, we suppose, will be to suppress all Republican newspapers, and gag all who indulge in the luxury of "Free Speech."

School Statistics for the State of Wisconsin.

The following estimate for the year ending August 31st, have been reported to the Department of Public Instruction:

There are 3,538 school districts, 118 districts which have not reported, 1,611 parts of districts, 78 parts of districts which have not reported, and 657 school houses in joint districts. The average number of months that schools have been taught is five and a half; the whole number of children under four years of age who have attended school is 1,066, and of children over 20 years of age 2,914. The average number of months children between four and twenty years of age have attended school, is four months and and a half, and schools have been taught on an average by a male teacher three and a half months and by a female teacher four months. The average amount of wages per month paid to male teachers has been $22-93, and to female teachers $14.29. The total amount of money received from Town and County Treasurers and other sources is $441,-058,99, and $536,860,66 has been paid for teachers' wages, $8,278,27 for libraries and and $147,175,54 expended for other purposes. $85,538,85 at the date of the report was unexpended, $227,672,6 has been raised by tax and expended for teachers' wages, $2,-039,52 raised by tax and expended for district libraries, $144,328,99 raised by tax and expended on school houses, and $80,220,50 raised by tax and expended for other purposes.

The total valuation of school houses is $1,-176,191,73, the highest valuation of any school house $20,000 and the lowest $25.— There are 3,377 school house sites which contain less than an acre, 3,301 school house sites unenclosed, 1,047 schools without a blackboard, and 3,314 schools without outline maps.

There are 1,071 district libraries, 179 joint libraries, 41,997 volumes in all the libraries and 51,062 volumes have been loaned during the year. $75,93 has been collected for library fines, and $18,43 of that amount has been expended.

There are 210 select and private schools other than incorporated Academies, and the average number of pupils attending such schools during the year is 9,772.

MOUNT VERNON.—The Boston Transcript assures the public that the patriotic ladies of the Mount Vernon Association "read their title clear" to the Washington estate. They have, says that journal, acted from the beginning of their enterprise under the direction of eminent gentlemen of the legal profession, and there will be no difficulty whatever about the title. It adds that "JOHN A. WASHINGTON has performed one generous act in presenting to the Mount Vernon fund the sum of $1,228 25, being the proceeds of the Mount Vernon steamboat trips for the past year."

CURE FOR HYDROPHOBIA.—The Leipsic Journal gives the following remedy for the bite of a mad dog, which it says was discovered by a Saxon forester, and has proved to be infallible: "Take immediately warm vinegar or tepid water, wash the wound clean therewith and dry it; then pour upon the wound a few drops of hydrochloric acid, because mineral acids destroy the poison of the saliva, by which means the latter is neutralized."

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Monday last, a serious accident occurred to Mr. Harvey Rice, one of the oldest residents of this place. Ascending a stairway leading from Chipman & Croft's Chair Factory to the story above, he inadvertably stepped off the stairs and fell to the floor fracturing the thigh bone, near the hip-joint, on the right side, and throwing it out of place. The limb has been properly adjusted, and he is at present in as comfortable a condition as could be expected.—Horicon Argus, Dec. 2.

The Official Canvass.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, Dec. 2, 1859.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Herewith I hand you a statement of the result of the official canvass made this day: also a statement of the actual vote for each candidate, as some of the returns were thrown out by the Canvassers, owing to irregularities and errors:

| | | | | Maj. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| A. W. Randall | 59,999 | H. C. Hobart | 52,589 | 7,460 |
| B. G. Noble | 59,606 | A. S. Palmer | 53,059 | 6,547 |
| L. P. Harvey | 59,256 | A. A. Alden | 52,735 | 7,151 |
| S. D. Hastings | 61,389 | L. Silverman | 49,151 | 12,238 |
| J. H. Howe | 60,549 | S. Crawford | 52,209 | 8,340 |
| G. Van Steenwyk | 59,697 | J. C. Squires | 52,880 | 6,817 |
| H. C. Heg | 59,669 | H. C. Fleck | 52,673 | 6,996 |
| J. L. Pickard | 59,355 | L. C. Draper | 52,844 | 6,511 |

The returns from Buffalo, Door and Eau Claire were thrown out in the official canvass because they were not canvassed on the day prescribed by law; and those of Milwaukee Co. because they lacked the County seal.

Statement of the actual vote, with those counties thrown out by the canvassers, included, and the footings of each return corrected.

Yours, &c., S.

NAPOLEON'S LETTER TO THE KING OF SARDINIA.—This letter has been treated very lightly by the American press, and has not apparently produced so much effect in Europe as one would suppose. To us it seems quite as significant as the conversation with Baron HUBNER, and it would not have been published in France if it had not been designed as an ultimatum for Sardinia and all the Italian States. The Philadelphia Ledger describes the letter as follows:

"To say that it is able and business-like in itself is not enough. It is most able and diplomatic. It boils down a whole ream of State paper phraseology into half a page of most condensed and essential thought. There is not a waste word nor an indiscreet word in it, so far as his great point is concerned. But here all praise must stop. Its purpose is most treacherous and diabolical. It is 'a demand,' backed by every conceivable motive that France could bring to bear upon the King of Sardinia, that he shall himself aid in re-subjugating Italy to the expelled Princes.

It is cold, haughty and dictatorial. To one admitted as an equal in the treaty of Paris, it must be galling in the extreme. The object is avowed to 'settle with Victor Emmanuel the course which ought to be pursued.'

Pursued by whom? is the first question that naturally arises. Napoleon tells him that 'the part of France is traced beforehand.' So that the plain meaning is, that he is going to tell him how he must act.

Napoleon adroitly reminds him that the cession of Lombardy, with a moderate debt, is an accomplished fact. He has accepted the benefit of the arrangement, and, therefore, ought to be satisfied with it. It is most insulting to the monarchs invited to the Italian Congress. What is the use of their assembling to register the acts of France?"

LA CROSSE ITEMS.—We clip the following from the La Crosse Republican of Saturday last:

LIVELY.—Such day as was yesterday in the line of business do one's heart good.—Where are the croakers with regard to La Crosse. Our streets were densely crowded with teams loaded with grain, pork, hay, wood, etc. Some of the pork purchased by Montague & Co., was the nicest we have yet seen in the market. And this is but the beginning—what will it be when times become easier?

PORK FROM TREMPELEAU.—The finest lot of pork of the season was brought to this city from Trempeleau. Some hogs went as high as 350 lbs, and sold as high as $5,25 per 100 lbs. Montague was the purchaser. He shipped about 31 1-2 tons yesterday for Milwaukee.

PORK PACKING.—Messrs. Kevin & Tyne, grocers, corner 2d and Pearl streets, are in the pork trade and have tuns far packed all they have purchased. There ought to be a regular packing house here. The quantity of pork to come forward between now and Christmas will be astonishing. The country is full of it all around us.

A NEGRO PAINTER.—The Mobile Mercury gives the following illustration of African genius:

At the late Fair of the West Alabama Agricultural Society, held at Dempolis, a premium of a silver cup was awarded to E. T. Page, of Mobile, for a portrait of Hon. F. S. Lyon. The artist is a colored man, formerly a barber on Royal street. He is of unblemished character, of strict integrity, and highly esteemed by his white acquaintances. Portrait-painting seems to be a natural gift to Page, which he has pursued, so far as we know, without any instruction. Such illustrations in the African race occasionally occur among us, as if to remind the world that the South is the region where they are protected and fostered, and all the worth of their character is encouraged to develop itself.

The Rope.

CHARLESTOWN, Va., Nov. 27, '59.

The principal excitement of yesterday (Saturday) was caused by the public exhibition, at the Sheriff's office, of the rope with which John Brown was to be hung. It was examined by crowds. The horrible, bloodthirsty discourses for which it afforded the text, were almost startling, even in this region of barbarous freedom of speech. I think that if ample arrangements had not been made to preserve order during the execution, Brown might be seized by the infuriated people and torn in pieces. There is no limit to the violence of expression here; whether it will lead to equal violence of action is doubtful. I should judge not; words cost nothing—deeds demand daring and courage.

The fact that the rope is made of South Carolina cotton is pointed out with exultation. "No Northern hemp," says the Sheriff, "shall help to punish our felons."—Cor. of Tribune.

SIGNS NOT TO BE MISTAKEN.—The irrepressible exodus of slaves from the borders of Missouri continues unabated. Free white labor is coming in—that of negroes out.—Every day adds proof to this, and any day a visit to our levee will convince the skeptical of the steady and continual flow of slave property to the South. Twenty-five left yesterday on one boat.

The Pro-Slavery organs in the country are howling in vain. The Huntsville Citizen deplores the loss, but it can't be helped.—Planters South want slaves—Missourians don't want them. The result is easily foreseen and cannot be averted. While some are selling, others allow their negroes to run away, as we hear of the arrival of twenty-six fugitives at Detroit, bound to Canada. We say "allow," because they take no measures to prevent it, and foolishly attempt to hold them.

In this connection, we learn from one of the toll-gate keepers on the Manchester road from this city, that during the season not less than a hundred families have passed towards the Southwest; and yet only one of that number had slaves; all the rest were from the North and East. Can any one doubt the great fact that the State is fast emancipating itself from the incubus of Slavery, and gradually getting ready for enrollment with the great majority of the Union.—St. Louis Democrat, Nov. 9.

NON-INTERCOURSE WITH THE NORTH.—Under the heading of "Non-Intercourse with the North," the Richmond Whig, of Thursday, publishes an editorial, from which the following is an extract:

"We cordially approve of the idea of the formation of voluntary associations throughout Virginia and the South, bound together by a common pledge among themselves neither to eat, drink, wear, buy, or use any article whatsoever manufactured at or imported from the North. Our fathers in the revolution carried out a similar pledge in regard to importations from the mother country and thus evinced a patriotic self-denial which has no parallel in history. We of the South must imitate their glorious example, if we would not be longer tributary to those who are fast getting to be our worst enemies."

RIPON ITEMS—THEATRICAL.—Mr. C. H. Irving is making an effort to re-organize the Ripon Histrionic Club. We wish the enterprise an abundant success.

MORE THUNDER!—Last night the boys made the "deep-mouthed artillery" proclaim the Independence of Ripon;—that she is, on and after the first day of December, a part and parcel of Green Lake County.

ENLARGED.—The Ripon Star appears this week enlarged to a seven column paper.—This is another evidence of the thrift of our city; no town of its size gives a better support to its newspapers.—Ripon Times.

DO ALL THE GOOD YOU CAN in the world, and make as little noise about it as possible.

The Union Dissolved!

That is to say, the performance is to come off next week. There is to be positively no postponement on account of the weather.—The dissolution that was to take place if New York and New Jersey went Republican was delayed to give the stiff-necked rebels one more chance to repent and return to their allegiance; but that was the last mercy. If the House elects a Republican Speaker next week, the Union is no more! Hear Mr. Buchanan's Washington organ, The Constitution:

In such a crisis as this, would not the election of a Black Republican Speaker and other officers be justly regarded as a declaration of war against the South and an invitation to servile insurrection? We appeal to every Southern member of Congress to answer the startling question whether the success, of such men at such a period would not be truly considered as inviting the slaves themselves to insurrection and rebellion?—We ask further, whether if, in consequence of such action, insurrection, or rebellion should appear in any portion of the South, would not all who had co-operated through such an organization with such associates be held properly responsible for all the consequences?

"We firmly believe that in the impending crisis a Black Republican victory in the organization of the House would shake the pillars of the Union. Already the Government is rocking almost on its foundations under the effect of the insurrectionary movements against the South, and if in the heart of two Southern States, and at the very capital of the Union, these traitors could now accomplish such a triumph we may but little longer boast of the possession of a common country. That the Constitution should be subverted by those who had just sworn to support that sacred instrument—that all its guarantics should be thus disregarded and violated—that the flag of treason should float in the Capitol itself, would cause the stoutest hearts to tremble for the fate of the Union.—While we still possess a common country, while the Union still lives, we implore all who would perpetuate its blessings and benefits to refrain from such an act in this period of gloom and peril. If evil must befall us—if the Constitution be wrong, the sacred name of Washington must be overthrown—if the Union, cemented by the blood of our forefathers, must be dismembered—if blood must flow in fratricidal strife, let not the disaster be participated in in the capital bearing the name of the Father of our Country!"

Bocho-o-o-o-o! The danger here deprecated—that of the election of a Republican Speaker—possibly of a printer of like faith, who of course will not be Gen. Bowman of the Constitution—is really serious. Of course, our Democratic bankers and brokers will today be trying to sell their U. S. Sixes at any price down to 75, and their Fives anywhere above 50. Just watch and see them do it. —N. Y. Tribune.

Completion of Victoria Bridge.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

MONTREAL, Nov. 24, 1859.

This gigantic undertaking and wonder of the New World is at length a fixed fact. The first locomotive with cars attached crossed this majestic structure to-day from shore to shore, conveying about fifty persons, among whom were the Hon. Mr. Cartier, Major Campbell, Col. Rhodes, the Hon. Mr. Ferrier, Alexander M. Ross, Esq., Engineer; Mr. Shanley, General Manager; Mr. Hodges, Contractor; Mr. Gzowski, Mr. Backwell, Managing Director; Mr. T. G. Ridout, Mr. McLeod, M. P. P.; Lieut. Col. Bolton, Mr. Cumberland, Mr. Galt, Mr. Kingford, Mr. James Beattie, also two ladies, Miss Beattie, niece of James Beattie, and Miss Blackwell daughter of the Managing Director, with other gentlemen, and your humble servant.

When on the middle span, three cheers were given for the success of the enterprise, and on the safe arrival on the south shore, Mr. Cartier, with a few appropriate remarks, proposed three cheers for the beloved Queen, in honor of whom the work was named, which three times three were heartily given; after which he proposed three for Mr. Alexander, Mr. Ross, as the Engineer and genius of the work; Mr. Hodges, as the very energetic and successful builder; Mr. Blackwell, as the able financier and manager; and, finally, for the courageous two of the fair sex, which were severally responded to (as Britishers know how) right heartily; also three for Mr. Cartier, Prime Minister of Canada, were called for and given; when "God Save the Queen" was sung in English and French, Mr. Cartier leading with spirit; when the most of the party proceeded by the train to Pueblec, and the balance returned again to the Montreal side of the river, well pleased with the success of the undertaking, as also the honor of being the first conveyed across it.

A few solid facts may not now be uninteresting. The length proper of the bridge is about two miles, and it consists of two abutments, each 250 feet long, and 24 piers 90 feet in length and 16 broad, reduced to 33 feet at top, and the shape of a wedge at the upper end (to divide the ice in Winter), and all built of solid blocks of limestone, which, together, makes 3,000,000 feet of solid masonry; then, resting upon this foundation are 24 iron tubes, each 242 feet span, and the centre one 330 feet, under which steamers will pass on their trips down the St. Lawrence; the tubes are 60 feet above the Summer water level; entire length of tube 6,600 feet; each of the 24 weighs 322 tuns, and the centre one, being double, weighs 840 tuns.—Total weight of iron work, 8,000 tuns. The size of tube is 22 feet high by 16 broad. The greatest expansion and contraction of each tube caused by the variation in the temperature from 40 below zero to 125 above, does not exceed 3 1-2 inches, which space is left between, each one being placed upon rollers so that the effects of this variation is not at all dangerous or sudden. The only wood used in the whole structure are the string-pieces that the rails are laid upon, and a narrow side that is now being laid at the side of one of the rails for the employees to pass with more ease and rapidity upon. The cross pieces are made of 1-4 inch iron laid seven ft. apart. The cost of the entire work will be about $6,500,000.

I noticed upon each end of the tube the following inscription:

BUILT BY JAMES HODGES,
FOR
SIR SAMUEL MORTON, PETO BART.
THOMAS BRASSY AND EDWARD LADD BETTS,
Contractors,

The bridge will be regularly opened for traffic on and after Monday, Dec. 19, when the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada will be one of the longest continuous lines in the world, being over one thousand miles long—now in running order. It is indeed a fine road, and when taken in connection with this work, may well be considered one of the first public works of the day; and when we consider that the bridge has added nearly $7,000 per mile to the cost of the same, it is a bold one.

The Convention excitement has entirely subsided. The Government have made the contract for the erection of the buildings at Ottawa, and have advertised already for tenders for plumbing and lighting the same.—Mr. McGreevy, the successful competitor for the buildings, has been the contractor for a new Custom-House at Quebec, in which he has given satisfaction to the Government, and done himself much credit. W. H. M.

A Very Dangerous Counterfeit.

The Philadelphia Ledger thus speaks of the new counterfeit on the Philadelphia Bank:

"The discovery yesterday morning of new and well-executed counterfeit $100 and $50 bills on the Philadelphia Bank, and that several of our banks, including the Philadelphia Bank itself, had been victimized, to large amounts, created quite an excitement on Third street, and among bank note dealers generally. A clerk in the private banking-house of Drexel & Co. brought, to this office one of each of the counterfeits: being part of a remittance of $3,000 from their correspondent at New York. The house had made its usual morning deposit at bank, and before information was received here of the existence of such counterfeits. Immediately, however, on learning that there were counterfeits out of the description named, Mr. Drexel called at the bank, and their bundle of notes left for deposit being unbroken—the bank clerk not yet having time to count them—it was examined, and every bill of the entire remittance of $3,000 from New York found to be counterfeit. Mr. Drexel's correspondent we understand, knows from whom he received the bills, and if not from one of the banks there, which, however, it is feared they were, may be traced back until some clue to their source is discovered.—The usual course of operation in putting counterfeit bills in circulation since the establishment of the telegraph, we are informed by the brokers, is to begin a circuit hundreds of miles away from the commercial center, thus securing several days of uninterrupted operation before the bills return and the fraud is exposed. There is reason to believe that this policy has been pursued in the present instance. Nearly every bank in our city has more or less of them. The Philadelphia Bank itself has some $1,700 that it cannot trace, and a much larger amount had been received, the source of which is known. The loss to the banks of this city will be probably, by the day's operations in these bills, about $20,000.—We have no doubt the loss is greater to banks more remote, and to the users of paper currency will probably amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. A more successful counterfeit has not been foisted on the community for years. The following are descriptions: The 100s are in blue ink, dated Jan. 1, 1858, and a thorough imitation of the old plate of that denomination. Of this plate, however, we are informed, there are very few in circulation. The genuine 100s of this bank, issued in May, 1859, are printed in black ink; and, so far as has yet been discovered, there are no counterfeits of this issue in black. The 50s are also admirably executed, printed in blue ink, and dated Feb. 1, 1859. As there never was a genuine 50 by the Philadelphia Bank of that date, the public will be sufficiently protected by observing the matter of that date. There are, however, counterfeit 50s from the same plate in black ink, dated May 2, 1849. The fact that all the best judges of paper bills have been effectually deceived by these counterfeits is proof of how complete is the imitation, and how useless it will be to attempt a reliable description."

SUCCESSFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.—Dr. Edwin O. Baker of this place, removed a tumor from the face of Harvey Shaw on Friday of last week, which has been pronounced incurable by eminent physicians. The tumor was located just in front of the left ear, reaching from the angle of the mouth to that of the ear, and was once and a half the size of a large tea-cup. It had been on him from birth, and kept increasing as he grew older.—Latterly it had grown much faster than before, and it was evident that unless it could be successfully removed it would destroy his life. Dr. Baker removed it in about three minutes and the patient is now doing well.—Eau Claire Free Press.

FIRE AT BRANDON.—We learn that the Steam flouring mill of Messrs. Hazen & Johnson, at Brandon, was burned on Wednesday night. The fire is supposed to have originated from friction in the machinery. The loss is some $8,000 or $10,000, on which there is an insurance of $2,500.—Ripon Times.

THE METEOR.—On Monday evening, about ten o'clock, a bright meteor was observed by some of our citizens, high up in the southern horizon, that was visible for about one minute. It gave out an intense white light, most beautiful to behold, and was accompanied by a long train. The body of the meteor appeared about the size of a cart wheel.—Jackson County Banner, 1st.

Special Notices.

PILES! PILES!! PILES!!!
What is it? How Cured?

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS HAVE PILES—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleeding, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and even injections, are ineffectual. HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefitted by it. Price 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large 3-drachm vials, and morocco case, $5, do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $2.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

Dancing,
Flirting,
Skimming along,
Beautiful snow! it can do nothing wrong,
Flying to kiss a fair lady's cheek;
Clinging to lips in a frolicsome freak.
Beautiful snow, from the heavens above,
Pure as an angel and fickle as love!

Oh! the snow, the beautiful snow!
How the flakes gather and laugh as they go!
Whirling about in its maddening fun,
It plays in its glee with every one.
Chasing,
Laughing,
Hurrying by,
It lights up the face and it sparkles the eye;
And even the dogs, with a bark and a bound,
Snap at the crystals that eddy around.
The town is alive, and the heart is a glow
To welcome the coming of beautiful snow!

How the wild crowd goes swaying along,
Hailing each other with humor and song!
How the gay sledges like meteors dash by—
Bright for a moment, then lost to the eye.
Ringing,
Swinging,
Dashing they go
Over the crest of the beautiful snow;
Snow so pure when it falls from the sky,
To be trampled in mud by the crowd rushing by;
To be tramped and tracked by the thousands of feet,
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street.

Once I was pure as the snow—but I fell!
Fell, like the snow-flakes, from heaven—to hell!
Fell, to be trampled as filth of the street:
Fell, to be scoffed, to be spit on, and beat.
Pleading,
Cursing,
Dreading to die,
Selling my soul to whoever would buy,
Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread,
Hating the living and fearing the dead,
Merciful God! have you seen me so low?
And yet I was once like this beautiful snow!

Once I was fair as the beautiful snow,
With an eye like its crystals, a heart like its glow;
Once I was loved for my innocent grace—
Flattered and sought for the charm of my face.
Father,
Mother,
Sisters all,
God, and myself, I have lost by my fall.
The tarliest wretch that goes shivering by
Will take a wide sweep, lest I wander too nigh;
For all that is on or about me, I know
There is nothing that's pure but the beautiful snow.

How strange it should be that this beautiful snow
Should fall on a sinner with nowhere to go!
How strange it would be, when the night comes again,
If the snow and the ice struck my desperate brain!
Fainting,
Freezing,
Dying alone!
Too wicked for prayer, too weak for my tocan
To be heard in the crash of the crazy town,
Gone mad in their joy at the snow's coming down,
To lis and to die in my terrible woe.
With a bed and a shroud of the beautiful snow!

Last Moments of Washington Irving.

As all particulars relating to the last hours of this great man, and the circumstances attending his death, must be profoundly interesting to the public, we give such memoranda as we have at Tarrytown. It is pretty generally known to the friends and admirers of Mr. Irving, throughout the country, that his health has been in a failing condition for a year past. An asthmatical difficulty to which he has long been subject, has, during this period taken a more serious turn, and has been attended with occasional paroxysms of difficult breathing, from which he has suffered greatly, and which have caused fearful apprehensions among the members of his family. The worst effect of this disease has been the sleepless nights that it has occasioned its victim. It is, in fact, stated, that Mr. Irving has not had a perfect night's rest in a year. The consequence of this has been a complete prostration of his nervous system, and the gradual breaking down of a constitution, already weak from the natural infirmity of years.

But, in addition to this, Mr. Irving has been afflicted with another disease, not so generally known to his friends, but which, as the event has shown, was of a much more fatal character. It has long been the opinion of his medical adviser, Dr. Peters, of New York, that he was suffering from enlargement of the heart. This conviction was some time since imparted to Mr. Irving, but, owing to the peculiar and uncertain character of the disease, neither physician or patient entertained any immediate apprehension as to the result. There can now, however, be no doubt that this, if not in part the source of the other ailment, was at least the immediate cause of death. So well satisfied are the physicians and family of Mr. Irving of this fact that no post mortem examination will be held. Until within the last fortnight, Mr. Irving had for nearly three months been comparatively free from the returns of his asthmatic affection. About two weeks ago, however, he had a return of the complaint, which continued, though in a milder form than it had taken on several previous occasions, up to the period of his death. On Sunday morning last he attended church as usual, at Tarrytown, about two miles from his residence. It was remarked by many persons in the congregation that he appeared more pallid and feeble than usual, and it was also noticed that he did not wait, after the services were over, as was his custom, to shake hands with his friends and neighbors, but immediately hastened home.

During the morning of Monday he walked out to his garden, a short distance from the house, and gave some instructions to his gardener. He also gave instructions to the carpenters who were employed in making some alterations in his library. He did not ride out during the day, as was his custom, but as he made no complaint of feeling more indisposed than usual, the omission was not thought by his family to arise from any alarming conditions. He dined with the family about 4 o'clock, and after dinner proposed that they should spend the evening in amusement, conversation and reading. In addition to the regular members of the family, consisting of Ebenezer Irving, the brother of the deceased, with his three daughters, and Pierre M. Irving, a nephew, with his wife, another nephew, Rev. Pierre M. Irving, of New Brighton, Staten Island, the library executor of the deceased, was also present, having accidentally come up from Long Island that day. The evening was spent according to the proposal of Mr. Irving, and excepting an occasional reference to his difficulty of breathing, none of the party appeared more cheerful, or a more gratified sharer of the enjoyment than he. In the intervals of conversation he glanced over the pages of several books that lay on the centre table, and the last book he is believed to have opened was Lieut. Page's History of the Paraguay Expedition.

About 10 1-2 o'clock he rose to retire, and taking his leave of the company, he ascended the stairs alone to his bed room. While upon the steps he met his nephew, Rev. Mr. Irving, coming down, holding in his hand a needle for sewing manuscripts, Mr. Irving accosted him in a playful manner, saying:—"Why, Pierre, what are you doing with a needle?" and passed on to his room. These were the last words he ever uttered. One of his nieces, Miss Sarah Irving, had preceded him to his room, and when he entered she was engaged in arranging his books so that they would be convenient of access in his hours of wakefulness during the night.—While engaged in this duty, she was startled by a noise as of some one choking, and turning round she saw Mr. Irving press his left hand to his heart and fall forwards. He caught hold of a table, in falling, and gradually sank down on the floor. The noise was heard in the parlor below, and in a moment every member of the household was around him, but before any of them reached him he had ceased to breathe. Supposing that he had fainted, efforts were made by the family to revive him, and, meanwhile, Dr. Caruthers and Mr. George D. Morgan, a near neighbor and intimate friend of Mr. Irving, were sent for. One the arrival of the Doctor, he made an examination of the body and announced that life was extinct.

The news of the death of Mr. Irving spread through the villages of Irvington and Tarrytown yesterday morning and fell upon the people like a thunderbolt. In no part of the country was he so much loved as in the neighborhood where he lived. His cheerfulness, good humor and benevolence, his unostentatious bearing, and his frank and cordial intercourse with all classes of people, had completely won the affections of every citizen of the place, and every person in that vicinity speaks of the loss as though it were that of a brother. No where will he be mourned with a sincerer sorrow than among the farmers, mechanics and laborers of Irvington and Tarrytown, who, albeit unconscious of his world-wide fame as an author, have learned to love him as the "peace-maker of the village."

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION
OF THE WEST SIDE
Passenger Railway Co.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESents, that we, the undersigned, of the City of Milwaukee and State of Wisconsin, who have hereunto subscribed our names respectively, have associated ourselves together as a body, politic and corporate, pursuant to Chapter seventy-three of the Revised Statutes of the State of Wisconsin, under the corporate name of "The West Side Passenger Railway Company." The capital stock of said The West Side Railway Company, is hereby fixed, limited at the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars, which shall be divided into three thousand shares of twenty-five dollars each, and which shares, stock shall be collected, assessed, called in, transferred and received in such manner as the directors of said corporation, hereafter to be chosen, shall from time to time prescribe.

The object for which this corporation is established, is hereby declared to be the construction of a Railway or Railway track, single or double, through and upon some of the streets of the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Fourth, Eighth and Fifth Wards of said City of Milwaukee, as said Wards are now bounded, and this corporation may by the Common Council of said city, be permitted and authorized to construct a railway through and upon further streets, and to suppose said railway with a sufficient rolling stock, cars, &c., for the transportation thereon of passengers from and to different parts of said Wards, and the transaction of such other acts as are commonly transacted and done by City Horse Railway Companies organized for the transportation of passengers; and we do hereby declare said corporation to be in all respects subject to all the provisions of said Chapter seventy-three of the Revised Statutes, and we do hereby adopt the provisions of said chapter for the further regulation and government of said corporation, hereby declaring that we do also authorize and empower the directors of the corporation, hereby created, to make all needful rules and regulations for the management thereof, in all cases where no provision is made by said chapter seventy-three, not inconsistent with the provisions of said chapter or the constitution and laws of said State of Wisconsin.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

I HAVE THE FOLLOWING PROPERTY which I want to exchange for Dry Goods, or any other description of Goods:

First—A good farm in Jefferson County, Wisconsin, twenty-five acres under fence and in cultivation: a log cabin, such as we all were accustomed to live in when we first came to this country, twelve years ago; a good stream of water running thro' the entire farm; 40 acres of it is heavy timber. A large settlement surrounds the said farm.

Second—I have that large brown house, opposite Post Office on Wisconsin st., which contains about twenty-five rooms and rents for about one thousand dollars.

Third—I have two horses, one perfectly sound, kind and gentle, the other is some what lame, but not broke the pair together and they make a good team for family use. Also, in connection, I have a carriage, buggy, wagon, sleigh, three set harness, two side saddles, two mens' saddles, three bridles, whip, &c., &c.

Fourth—I have three hundred acres of school land in Marquette County, Wis. This land has been selected, as all other school lands. Now, all the above property I will exchange for Dry Goods, &c., or for any good city property. The said property is free from all incumbrances.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

News by the City of Manchester.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—3 P. M.

Latest per City of Manchester, from Queenstown, 20th ult.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A French Protestant Journal asserts that the high duties on English manufactures have failed in preventing competition. Light goods from Manchester, suitable for the Arab market, were ordered by way of experiment, and notwithstanding import duties and expenses, they were found to be 10 per cent lower than the same kind of French goods.

PARIS, 19.—The Constitutionel to-day confirms the statement, that the Avelt de Religion would be suppressed for publishing a letter alleged to be from the King of Sardinia to the Emperor of France, relative to the regency of Prince Carsgnan.

Baron de Talleyrand will replace the Marquis Mourtier as Ambassador at Berlin.

The Marquis Bonneville will be appointed Ambassador at Athens.

Thee Spanish troops for Morocco have been delayed, as Marshal O'Donnell will not consent to their leaving before the collection of the war material has been completed, which will be very shortly.

No invitation to take part in the approaching Congress, has yet been sent to any Power. The letters of credence will be sent to the plenipotentiaries on Sunday or Monday next.

The Abbar publishes the following despatch of Mortismprey, dated Islay, Nov. 9:

Gen. Gefrier announces that after an immense razzie undertaken against the Mair and Angodas Penigelan, St. Hanaisa had been taken by surprise by the commander of the troops. Our conditions have been accepted and hostages surrendered to us. The expeditionary corps will re-cross the frontier on the 11th inst. and will then be broken up.

Later From Havana

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—3 P. M.

The steamer Cahawba, from Havana, with dates to the 30th ult., arrived this forenoon. A report says the new Captain General would carry out Gen. Concha's policy, particularly as regards improvements in Havana.

The Cahawba brings nearly half a million in Mexican dollars.

Sugars were very firm in Havana.

The steamer City of Manchester, from Glasgow, the 17th ult., via Queenstown, on the 20th ult., arrived here this morning.—There is no news of importance.

Senator Seward and Harper's Ferry.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.

The Paris correspondent of the Times states that Senator Seward had reached that city in good health and spirits. He indignantly denies of even hearing of the projected insurrection at Harper's Ferry, although he recollects having received a call from a man known as Col. Forbes. There was no mention made of such an attempt at insurrection.

Col. Forbes asked them for means for another object, which was refused, and that was all he ever saw of the individual in question.

Mr. Seward comes home in the Arago during the present month.

Sympathy at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, Dec. 2—3 P. M.

The City Hall was densely packed with citizens this evening, for over three hours, listening to stirring and eloquent speeches, expressing sympathy for John Brown and family. Strong resolutions were adopted.

A Committee on Funds was appointed, and a considerable amount was contributed at the meeting.

The City Hall bell, previous to the meeting, tolled 63 strokes, the number corresponding with Brown's age. The sympathy for Brown and family is very strong here.

Boy Run Over.

WATERTOWN, Wis., Dec. 5—3 P. M.

A runaway lad, about 12 years old, was run over by the cars here this morning, cutting off both legs. The injuries will probably prove fatal. He says his father's name is Jonathan Babcock, and lives at Marilla, Erie Co., N. Y.

Free Speech South.

SAVANAH, Dec. 2.

Mr. Fish, a shoe dealer and a resident of this city for several years, but born in Massachusetts, has been tarred and feathered for expressing abolition sentiments.

John Brown's Body.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—3 P. M.

John Brown's body left this city this morning for Albany, en route for North Elba.

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

SENATE.—The Senate was called to order at 1:30 by prayer made by Dr. Gurly; 48 Senators were present; credentials of Jno. C. Eyck, of N. J., examined.

The absentees were Messrs. Benjamin, Clay, Clittenden, Davis, Douglas, Pitch, Fitzpatrick, Hammond, Johnson, of Ark., Polk, Sebastian, Seward and Toombs.

Mr. Mason, of Va., submitted a resolution which he would call up to-morrow, for the appointment of a Committee to enquire into facts attending the late invasion and seizure of the Armory and Arsenal at Harper's Ferry by a band of armed men, and report whether the same was attended by armed resistance to the authorities and public force of the United States, and the murder of any citizens of Virginia, or any troops sent there to protect public property; whether such invasion was made under color of any organization intended to subvert the government of any of the States of the Union, and the character and extent of such organization; whether any citizens of the U. S. were present; were not implicated therein or accessory thereto by contributions of money, arms, munitions, or otherwise; the character and extent of the military equipments in the hands or under the control of said armed band; where, how and when the same was obtained and transported to the place invaded. Also, to report what legislation, if any, is necessary by the Government for the future preservation of the peace of the country and the safety of public property; and that the Committee have full power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Trumbull, of Ill., gave notice when the resolution came up, that he should move to amend it, by extending enquiry into the seizure of the arsenal at Franklin, Mo.

The customary resolutions were adopted to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate was ready for business.

Mr. Gwin gave notice that he would present a Pacific R. R. bill. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The interest in the organization of the House is, if possible, on the increase. Long before noon, the galleries were densely filled, and crowds were unable to obtain admission. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there is the usual attendance of ladies. On the floor there were the customary salutations among members and others, and a pleasant excitement prevailed every where.

Mr. Allen, the Clerk of the late House, called the House to order at noon. The din of voices immediately ceased; spectators were excluded from the floor, and the members took their seats.

The roll was called, and 231 members answered to their names. The absentees were Messrs. Stalworth and Landrewn, of Ala., Brown and Adams, of Ky., Hindman and Rusk, of Ark., and Hamilton, of Texas.

On motion of Mr. Phelps, the House agreed to proceed to the election of a Speaker viva voce.

Mr. Houston nominated Mr. Sherman, of Ohio. Mr. Adrian nominated Mr. Davis, of Indiana. Mr. Haskin nominated Mr. Davis, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Curtis nominated Mr. Hickman. Mr. Grow nominated Mr. Stevens. Mr. Briggs nominated Mr. Balcester, of Va.

Numerous voices, impatiently, "call the roll."

The Clerk appointed Messrs. Houston, Corwin, Adrian and Briggs, as Tellers.

Mr. Florence said—In listening to the call of the roll, I noticed that several members were absent. In order to enable them to participate in the election, I move that the House adjourn until to-morrow.

Mr. Jno Cochrane—I hope that gentleman will withdraw his motion.

Mr. Coble—Oh! let us have one vote—(laughter.)

The House took the vote by acclamation, amid which, and laughter, Mr. Florence withdrew his motion, and the House proceeded to vote.

First vote for speaker: Sherman 66, Bocock 86, Grow 43, Botteler 14, Davis 2, Phillips 1, Gillmore 3, Nelson 5, Corwin 1, Adrian 1, Hill 1, Hickman 1, Pennington 1, Haskin 2, McQueen 1, H. F. Clark 1.

No one having received a majority of the votes cast, Mr. Grow rose and said: As I desire in no way to retard the organization of the House, I withdraw my name as a candidate. I assure those gents who in kindness cast their vote for me, that I shall treasure through life so distinguished a mark of their friendship and regard.

Mr. Burnet moved an adjournment, to be decided by yeas and nays. Without concluding the consideration of the subject the House adjourned.

Mr. Clark, of Mo., wanted to make some remarks in favor of an adjournment after another vote. (Cries of go on)

Mr. Burnet objected to this proceeding saying there was no question before the House. He subsequently withdrew his objection which was renewed by Mr. Washburne, of Illinois.

The Clerk said he would submit the question whether Mr. Clark should have the liberty to proceed.

Mr. Garnett contended that there was no power here to preclude debate and said that the gent has a right to show that there were some nominees for Speaker who should not be elected.

Mr. Clark insisted that the House could not deprive him of his constitutional rights to make remarks as to the nominations for Speaker.

The clerk replied that he should not take upon himself the responsibility to decide the question, but would submit it to the House.

Mr. Clark earnestly said, I claim the right as an independent member to speak.—I deny the power of the House to deprive me of that right; I decide for myself. Cries of go on, go on, good Mr. Curtis what part of the Constitution do you refer to if you have that right? I have it also. Cries thick and fast, call the roll, call the roll.

Mr. Clark—I deny the right to call the roll, for I have the floor. [Cries of "question, question," from the Republican side of the House.]

Mr. Kilgore—I presume this matter could be settled if the Republicans would consent to an adjournment after another vote. [Here the cries of "question" were again renewed.]

Mr. Clark withdrew his application to make remarks, and offered the following:

WHEREAS, Certain members of this House, now in nomination for a Speaker, did endorse and recommend the book hereinafter named, therefore

Resolved, That doctrines and sentiments of a certain book, called "the Impending Crisis of the South, and how to meet it," purporting to have been written by H. R. Helfer, are incendiary and hostile to the country, and that no member of this House who recommended or endorsed it, or the compend, is fit to be Speaker of the House.

The reading of the resolution occasioned applause from some of the Northern men clapping their hands.

Mr. Stevens, of Pa., said that it seemed to him that in the present condition of the House, but two things were in order—one, a motion to adjourn, and the other to proceed to vote.

Mr. Clark continued by saying, in view of crisis of the country, and representing as he did, a slaveholding constituency, he would.

Mr. Washburne, of Me., called him to order.

Mr. Clark continued, saying we have had two wars since the Declaration of Independence and have grown from a weak state to a great confederacy, challenging the admiration of the civilized world.

Mr. Stanton interrupted him by saying that he apprehended that nobody wished to stay here, if the object was not to save time, but he saw no good in remaining here, as he knew the gentlemen on the other side could consume the remainder of the day.

Mr. Clark—My purpose is higher than that. [Cries from Democratic side—Good! good! Let's adjourn]

Mr. Clark was willing to give way for that purpose.

Mr. Stanton thought that this line of discussion would be much more appropriately and better managed if the House were organized by the election of a presiding officer.

Mr. Washburne, of Maine, arose to a question, but Mr. Clark proposed to go on with his remarks unless some gentleman wished to move to adjourn.

Mr. Stevens—I hope we will not adjourn; these things must come out.

A voice—You're right.

Mr. Stanton—I see no good to be accomplished by remaining here, unless we proceed to vote; I take upon myself the responsibility to move that the House adjourn.

Negatived by 2 maj.

Mr. Vallandingham remarked that some Democrats were absent; three of them might be here to-morrow. He therefore voted aye.

Mr. Clark resumed, but his tone was altogether inaudible. He wished to show why the resolution ought to pass, and to present to the American people the position which certain gentlemen occupied as regards the Speakership.

Mr. Kilgore, of Ind., explained, and was understood in saying that he condemned as strongly as the gentleman from Missouri possibly could, the avowal of such sentiments.

Republican Victory at Springfield, Mass.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 5—9 P. M.

The election for city officers took place to-day. A large vote was cast. The Republicans carried everything by from three to four hundred majority, in a vote of 2,000. Dan'l L. Harris is Mayor and Horace C. Lee, Clerk and Treasurer—the latter succeeding Joseph Ingraham, Dem., who has held the office for 17 years.

The Board of Aldermen and Common Council stands 14 Republicans and 4 Democrats.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

The 7th and 8th regiments are ordered to be at their armories at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning and remain there all day for use in case of emergency. A strong force will also be stationed at the Arsenal to prevent any attempt to seize the arms stored there.

Preparations are making for a great union meeting in Philadelphia on Wednesday night.

BOSTON, Dec. 5—6 P. M.

Mr. Burnham, late State Liquor Agent, whose term of imprisonment for contempt of Court, expired on Saturday, was brought up before the Police Court to-day, on charge of selling adulterated liquors, but his trial was postponed, and his bail of $5,000 continued.

TROY, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

The body of John Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Brown and Wendell Phillips, passed through this city to-day, arriving by the cars at noon, and started at 5 o'clock for its destination. Little or no excitement was created during the time the body remained at the depot. The funeral takes place on Thursday, at North Elba.

NEW BEDFORD, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

At our Municipal election to-day Isaac C. Tabor, Independent, was chosen Mayor by 578 majority over Weston Howland, Citizens' Candidate. A majority of the City Council on the Tabor ticket are also elected.

LAWRENCE, Dec. 5—Noon.

Daniel Saunders, Citizens' candidate, was elected Mayor, to-day, by 155 majority over J. R. Rollins, Republican candidate. A large majority of the City Council, on the Citizens' ticket, are also elected. The result is claimed as a triumph for the Democrats.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

There are no signs of the Anglo Saxon at Portland.

TOLEDO, Dec. 5—9 P. M.

CHICAGO PROVISION AND GRAIN TRADE.—Receipts on Saturday: 2,936 brls flour; 5,035 bus wheat; 16,701 bus corn; 1,209 bus oats; 514 dressed hogs; 1,868 live do.

The Press & Tribune says of the markets:

The receipts of live hogs to-day were much larger; and this, along with the scarcity of currency, which kept some of the heavy buyers out of the market, as well as former feeling in the trade generally, caused a re-action and a decline of 20@25c on yesterday's prices. The hogs, however, were mostly light, and for that reason less affected than the heaviest averaging 250 @260 lbs, for which $4 55@4 65 were paid—the range of the day's sales being $4 12½@4 65. A large number, however, were held off the market, in hopes of an improvement on Monday.

The provision market shared in the same dull and drooping feeling, and but little was done.

There was no inquiry for mess pork, at over $14 25@14 50, and we have no sales to report. In cut meats there were some transactions—1,000 pieces shoulders, and 1,500 pieces sides, for salt, on private terms—reported at ⅛ fraction over 5½c and 7½c packed.—Lard is quiet and nominal at 10c. A lot of 225 brls mess beef was sold at $7 00, beef hams at $10 50, and beef tongues at $13 00. Tallow firm at 10½c. Hides dull and lower.

The flour market continues quiet and steady, with but little inquiry. About 800 brls were sold to-day at $4 35@4 55 for Spring extras, and $5 30 for good white Winter. The light receipts of wheat rendered the market firm, and in advance was paid. The transactions, however, were very limited, at 90@91c for No. 2 Spring, and $1 for choice club on track. There was a better inquiry for corn, and the market advanced 1@2c toward the close. A cargo of 10,500 bushels No. 1 was sold at 42c. In store, 5,000 for shipment by propeller to Buffalo, and about 6000 bushels in lots at 38@40c in store, and 40@42c on track. Oats scarce and firm, with sales at 31½c for No. 1 in store. Rye in limited supply, with a good demand at 70c on track. Barley firm, with limited sales at 55@56½c for No. 1 on track. Timothy seed in good request at $2 08@2 12½. Highwines dull at 21c. Alcohol 43½@44c.

CINCINNATI PORK AND PROVISION TRADE.—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Saturday morning, says:

There was an improvement of 10c per 100 lbs in the price of hogs to-day, and the advance in feeling was still greater. Good receipts were considered moderate, being 7,000 head for the 24 hours, and the weather, which had for 18 hours been unfavorable, underwent a sudden change, and this afternoon and evening, it was cold, with a sharp Northwest wind. These influences, with the pre-disposition that has been manifested for some days to adopt a short crop theory, operated in favor of sellers, who realized an advance as stated, and at the close were not anxious to sell good hogs for less than $6 50. The feeling late in the afternoon was quite buoyant, and $6 25@6 30 was paid freely for hogs averaging 200 to 280 lbs. The provision market sympathized with the hog trade, but the movements were confined chiefly to mess pork. There was an active inquiry for this article, for immediate delivery, at $15 75, and there were sales at the figure, but late in the day none was to be had for less than $16. For January and February $16 50 was resolutely contended for, with buyers making very favorable signs in that direction. Early in the day 150 hhds bulk shoulders sold at 6¾ pkd, but at close holders were firm at 6c for shoulders and 8c for sides. Green meats were held at 8¾c for hams, and 8¾c for shoulders, with buyers at 8c and 8c. Lard was not much inquired for; prime barrel held at 10½@10¾c. Four was dull, but holders did not care enough about selling to make concessions. There were no sales below $5 15 for superfine.

MILWAUKEE DAILY MARKET.

MONDAY EVENING, December 5th.

FLOUR—Market rather unsettled and heavy. Sales 100 bbls "Wolf River" Spring Extra at $4,25 f. o. c.

WHEAT—To-day the market has been steady with very light receipts, and prices are unchanged at previous quotations. There is a fair demand for No. 1 at 92c, Club at 94@95c, and Extra at 96@97c. Sales as follows: 350 bus No. 2 on track at 90c; 2,100 bus No. 1 in lots at 92c; 350 bus No. 1 delivered at 93c, 200 bus Club delivered at 94c; 350 bus do at 95c; 350 bus Extra delivered at 96c; 350 bus do on track at 96¾c; 875 bus do delivered at 97c; 5,000 bus No. 1 in elevator at 92c.

HOGS—Market inactive and a shade lower than on Saturday. The following are a few of the sales made early:

SIGHT AND HEARING

DR. F. A. OALDWELL

FORMERLY OF TORONTO, C. W., now of Chicago, Ill., the eminent and skillful operator on the

EYE AND EAR,

At No. 74 Randolph street, Chicago, is now working miracles in the cure of restoring

LOST SIGHT AND HEARING.

Upwards of TWO HUNDRED have been received by Dr. C. within the last four weeks, many of whom have been blind for months and years, have had their sight restored immediately. DELICATE AND DIFFICULT OPERATIONS, while others, who have been sufferers from disease, have been miraculously cured by mild and simple treatment.

The best proof as to how Dr. C.'s services are appreciated is, that he is daily receiving new patients from all parts of the country, and dismissing, assured, his early received cases.

NO FEE is required for an examination or opinion. NO CHARGE for services that are NOT SUCCESSFUL, as will be stated when the patient is received. Dr. Caldwell's charges are REASONABLE AND SUITED to all circumstances in applications above.
